Weekly Maths Tasks

LO: To add and subtract decimals

Each pair of blocks totals the block above them. Use addition and subtraction to fill in the missing blocks.

- Work on Times Table Rockstars.

Weekly Reading Tasks

LO: To understand my own reading preferences

Think about the types of books you tend to read. Think about the books you have really loved through your life, even if someone else has read these to you. Which types of books do you like the best? Do you like fairy tales, funny stories, historical, picture books, thrillers for example?

- Read at least 3X per week and record this in your reading record

Weekly Writing Tasks

Grammar

LO: To use fronted adverbials

Fronted adverbials tell us more about how, where or when something happens. It comes at the front of a sentence e.g:

With all the effort he could muster, Thor brought his hammer crashing down.

Deep in the evergreen forest, a suspicious silhouette lurked.

At the stroke of midnight, the clouds enclosed the moon.

Think about all the new vocabulary you have learnt this half term. Try to include this vocabulary in sentences using fronted adverbials.

Write ten of your own sentences using fronted adverbials. They do not have to be linked, it is just for you to practice.

Spellings

Topic words

August	October	January	because	stealthily

Project

Art

LO: To use line and tone

Think about all the amazing minibeasts you have learnt about. Choose your favourite. Find a picture of it and sketch it in your homework book. Focus on the line and tone. Does it need shading? Are there parts that are darker/ lighter than others? Are there fine details such as antennae? Look at the body parts and shapes within your creature to help you draw.
